

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1889.

NO. 8

The Inaugural Address.

The 200 words of our special dispatch published in the Tuesday's issue to completely cover all the salient points in Harrison's inaugural address and struck center so thoroughly on the cabinet appointments, that there is but little to tell. For the sake, however, of those who wish to read more of the address we conclude as follows:

A considerable portion of it is devoted to a review of the National growth since Washington was inaugurated forty years ago. He then launches into the favorite topic of doctrine of protection to which he attributes much of our prosperity, but what he says is not new or any better than that hundreds of its advocates proclaim. It is from the stamp the South has that the South would have enjoy equal benefits in the field with the North but for slavery, which is a distinct and separate community.

He also altogether says he rejected the suggestion of a special executive power for any section of the country, and then goes on to discuss our election laws in a most sensible and patriotic manner. As to internal taxation he says we should not tax so as to be oppressive to our citizens, to be hospitable to immigration, but we should cease to be careless as to the character of it. There are men of all classes even to the best, whose coming is necessarily a burden upon revenues or a threat to a soldier. They should be identified and excluded. It will be remembered though that he voted to vote for the exclusion of the Chinese when he had the chance. As to foreign affairs he is eminently conservative and his policies expressed is a decided compliment to the outgoing administration. All useless complications must be avoided while maintaining the Monroe doctrine and insisting on our rights and considerations should characterize our diplomacy. The offices of an intelligent diplomat of friendly abilities in foreign cases should be adopted to the peaceful adjustment of all international difficulties. By such methods we will make our contributions to the world's peace, which no nation values more highly and avoid the opprobrium which must fall upon the nation that rashly breaks it.

On the question of the division of the spoils, in which the rads are more interested he says: The division is so large that a personal knowledge of any number of the applicants is impossible. The President must rely upon the representations of others and these are often made meanderingly and without any just sense of responsibility. I leave a right, I think, to insist that those who volunteer and are invited to give service to appointments, shall exercise consideration and fidelity. A high sense of duty and ambition to improve the service should characterize all public officers.

There are many ways in which the convenience and comfort of those who have business with our public officers may be promoted by a thoughtful and obliging officer, and I shall expect those whom I may appoint to justify their selection by a conscientious energy in the discharge of their duties.

Honorable party service will certainly not be esteemed by me a disqualification for public office, but it will in no case be allowed to serve as a shield of official negligence, incompetency or delinquency. It is entirely creditable to seek public office by proper motives, and all applicants will be treated with consideration, but I shall need, and the heads of the departments will need, time for inquiry and deliberation. Persistent importunity will not, therefore, be the best support of an application for office. Heads of departments, bureaus and all other public officers having any duty connected therewith, will be expected to enforce the civil service law fully and without evasion. Beyond this obvious duty I hope to do something more to advance the reform of the civil service. The ideal, or even my own ideal, I shall probably not attain. We shall not, however, I am sure, be able to put our civil service upon a non-partisan basis until we have secured an inaccuracy that fair-minded men of the opposition will approve for impartiality and integrity. As the number of such in the civil list is increased, removals from office will diminish.

The President does not regard the treasury surplus as the greatest evil, and adds there were many ways to remove it without impairing a adequate protection to American industry. He favors strengthening the navy and the establishment of American steamship lines. He thinks pension laws should give more adequate and discriminating relief to veterans of the war and adds: "Such occasions as this should remind us that we owe everything to their valor and sacrifice." He spoke earnestly of the growing interest in the reform of our election laws, and said Congress should not hesitate to exercise its full powers under the constitution to enforce a pure ballot if occasion demanded it.

The address closes as follows: No particular party can long pursue an advantage at the expense of public honor or by crude and indecent methods without protest and fatal dislocation in its own body. The peaceful agencies of conscience are more fully revealing the necessity of unity of all communities and the increasing intercourses of our people is the promotion of mutual respect. We shall find mutual pleasure in the revolution which our next census will make of the swift development of the great resources of some of the States. Each State will bring its general contribution to the great aggregate of the Nation's increase and when the harvests from the fields, the cattle from the hills, the ones in the earth have been weighed, counted and valued we will know from them all to whom with the highest honor the great assumed power of elevation, virtue, peace and patriotism among its people.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

May wheat in barrel $1.00, in bushel $2.50 Tuesday.

Big lot of baled trashy hay to sell $1.50.

B. Stagg, Jr.

D. N. Prewitt bought in this county a ranch of land Saturday. $100 to $175.

J. H. Bailey sold to Clark Bush, a pair of good mares for $275.

Adam Price sold to a Tennessee party a horse & buggy for $150.

A. F. Newland sold to D. N. Prewitt a 4140 ft. and cattle at $15.

J. H. Underwood sold to Johnson, of Boyle, a pair of young oxen for $80.

J. L. Adams, of Covington, bought of James Cooch a pair of buggy horses for $250.

S. H. Boughman sold to Wakefield & Co., of Danville, a 24 ft. of buck for $800.

The Stanford Roller Mills wishes to buy a few hundred barrels of corn. W. N. Potts, Supt.

A. Fayette county tobacco raiser last his labor and $28.00 on his tobacco crop this season.

W. H. Higgins bought of M. Smith Birmingham a team of 1 harness gelding for $200. on its capital.

C. H. Clement, of Madison, has lost to young mules in as many days from some unknown cause.

Logan Isom, of Madison, bought in the Shatto City neighborhood a lot of 2 and 1 1/2 year old cattle at $15.

M. J. M. Boggs's side of short-horn bulls in this city, nine averaged $172. Mt. Sterling $160.

The entire crop of 1888 amounted to 7,016,883 bushels, the greatest yield in our history, valued at $43,444,150.

I have for sale 75 barrels of corn, good for local or seed. It was gathered off the stalk. Thornton Porter, Gilberts Creek.

The Baptist Year Book shows a total membership of 2,997,794, a gain of 8,479 over last year. There are 1,612 associations, 21,120 ordained ministers and 32,900 churches.

We have received through Mr. J. B. Warren kindly message of love and sympathy in our affliction from Elder Carroll Kendrick, of California, which we heartily appreciate.

Rev. Dr. Frazee has bought the farm in Fayette, 250 acres, for $22,500 cash. Already this year $150,000 have changed hands for farms in that county.

C. T. Sandidge, of Hustonville, Lincoln county, sold a King Denmark stallion for $1,400 to Missouri parties. King Denmark is owned by J. M. Richardson & Co., of this place. (Glasgow Times)

The Kentucky Association has decided to have twelve days of racing at the spring meeting at Lexington. This arrangement will result in a clash of six days with Memphis and six days with Nashville.

Jim Gore has picked them out in the Kentucky Handicap as follows, providing the horses named come to the post: Terra Cotta first, Montrose second, Kibdoh third.

L. M. Lashay, who is a natural born taster, says that Jacobin and Drumstick will be first and second in the Suburban, New York bookmaker are betting $100 to $10 against each and $100 to $10 against each to be as good as second.

There were 100 cattle on the market Monday, of this number 75 changed hands, the best selling at 3 cts. Several yokes of oxen sold at $75 to $125; about 50 mules on the market and 17 broke sold at $140 to $180. M. F. Admick sold four mules for $100 and Fox & Son for $133. (Richmond Climax)

Yesterday was a fair-court day and a good deal of stock was offered. Brisk sales at $125 to $150 and best feeding cattle at $2 to $4. T. J. Ud. R. G. Steiner, of Harlanbottom Stock Farm, has sold 11 Wilkes colts and fillies since the first of January for an average of nearly $2,000. (Paris News)

A large crowd attended the sale of A. H. Newland's effects Wednesday and high prices were realized. Household and kitchen furniture and farming implements brought better prices than new articles of the same kind; combined horse $150; 3 mares $80; $90 and $87; work mule $142; milk cows $18 to $22; yearling oxen $75; 3 yearling steers $16; 7 yearling heifers $17 to $19; 18 head Poland China hogs, weight 150 pounds, $7.50 to $9; corn in crib $175; shelled oats $22; hay, per ordinary sized sack $16. The farm of 354 acres was sold to this Newland at $18.15 per acre and the 50 acres of knob land to John Turbull at $1.80.

The best bank in the United States was the Bank of North America, chartered by Congress at the instance of Robert Morris in 1781 and by the State of Pennsylvania in 1781, with a capital of $10,000. It is still in existence in Philadelphia.

M. T. Russell sold to a Tennessee party a 2 year old filly for $150.

Daniel Gano sold to T. H. Jones, 22 yoking mules at $65 to $90; town Times.

Lee & Walker, Jr. of Danville, bought half a dozen geldings at Lebanon Monday at $10 to $170.

Senator John D. Hill, bought the personal tack, Longhollow, of A. C. Sampson, of Bourbon for $1.40.

T. J. McKinney, of Madison county, has news that goes north to a well developed land for weeks of land and last week had twins.

D. B. Hampton received a car load of 1,200 ft. of timber, which he bought in Cincinnati. The logs bring about $1.00 per acre. Clayton Howell, H. C. Howell and Edith Pigg sold their ears of tobacco amounting to 60,000 or 70,000 pounds to G. L. Kirkpatrick at $1.40 cents.

At the regular meeting of the Missions Society jointly the two societies, the Christian Aid and Missions Society, presented to Mrs. G. W. Yancey a five-dollar membership centre table. This gift shows in what high esteem Mrs. Yancey is held by the two societies in which she has long been a faithful and devoted member.

The first of the week gay & giddy abounded in our city. First a hoop Monday night for the dancing class and an entertainment by Fara Prior Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and we understand there is to be a candle-pulling tomorrow night by the Band of Hope in the younger Missionary Society of the Christian church.

Mr. Millsbaugh, of Covington, and Mr. Shelly, of Lexington, are the lawyers that are attending court here this week. Mrs. Woodford Dunlap was in Danville last week visiting friends. Mrs. Fannie Green, a pretty little widow of Stanford, was in Lancaster Tuesday with friends, Messrs. Ed and Napo. Mrs. and Dr. James Kinnaird were all in your city the first of the week.

The following is a list of the young men that have just been enrolled as belonging to the recently reorganized Company. W. J. Kinnaird, captain; Louis Lambram, 1st lieutenant; James L. Houshmand, 2d lieutenant; Thomas Faison, quar. serg.; W. O. Hawley, 2d serg.; W. H. Collier, 3d serg.; S. D. Higgins, 4th serg.; Mort. Rothwell, com. serg.; Letha Owsley, 1st corporal; Samuel Jennings, 2d corporal; John Kirby, 3d corporal; Sam Fox, 4th corporal; captain, Alex M. Lee.

One night last week after M. D. Higgins, the editor of the News, had sought the bosom of his family, quite an unusual thing happened. After the wee hours hours of night had been partly spent he thought he heard a faint cry or noise at the door. He seemed to wait until it wanted admittance. He said he thought it must be some late visitor seeking entrance at his chamber door. It sounded to him more like the wail of an infant than anything else. At first he thought he would confront the intruder with a pistol, but being of a weak, timid nature he desisted and thus let the wail die away in the distance. What was his surprise and consternation the next morning upon opening the door to find nothing more or less than a dead kitten. We may say we are surprised to find out that such a brave looking, powerfully built man as M. D. Higgins should give way to trepidation for as slight a thing as a little, puny kitten. What would he do if an animal of the genus homo should attack him.

We have received through Mr. J. B. Warren kindly message of love and sympathy in our affliction from Elder Carroll Kendrick, of California, which we heartily appreciate.

The Baptist Year Book shows a total membership of 2,997,794, a gain of 8,479 over last year. There are 1,612 associations, 21,120 ordained ministers and 32,900 churches.

We have received through Mr. J. B. Warren kindly message of love and sympathy in our affliction from Elder Carroll Kendrick, of California, which we heartily appreciate.

The following is a list of the young men that have just been enrolled as belonging to the recently reorganized Company. W. J. Kinnaird, captain; Louis Lambram, 1st lieutenant; James L. Houshmand, 2d lieutenant; Thomas Faison, quar. serg.; W. O. Hawley, 2d serg.; W. H. Collier, 3d serg.; S. D. Higgins, 4th serg.; Mort. Rothwell, com. serg.; Letha Owsley, 1st corporal; Samuel Jennings, 2d corporal; John Kirby, 3d corporal; Sam Fox, 4th corporal; captain, Alex M. Lee.

One night last week after M. D. Higgins, the editor of the News, had sought the bosom of his family, quite an unusual thing happened. After the wee hours hours of night had been partly spent he thought he heard a faint cry or noise at the door. He seemed to wait until it wanted admittance. He said he thought it must be some late visitor seeking entrance at his chamber door. It sounded to him more like the wail of an infant than anything else. At first he thought he would confront the intruder with a pistol, but being of a weak, timid nature he desisted and thus let the wail die away in the distance. What was his surprise and consternation the next morning upon opening the door to find nothing more or less than a dead kitten. We may say we are surprised to find out that such a brave looking, powerfully built man as M. D. Higgins should give way to trepidation for as slight a thing as a little, puny kitten. What would he do if an animal of the genus homo should attack him.

To kill off the woman's suffrage craze there ought to be a law making marriage compulsory. Men and women who remain single at the age of 30 years should be drafted into matrimony just as soldiers into the army. Government ought to say, "Here, Smith, you have drawn 35. Her name is Jones. Hunt her up and marry her." This would be hard on some of the men, but a man who refuses to choose a wife for himself ought to be sacrificed for the good of society. There is nothing so discouraging to a woman suffrage woman as a house full of children. —Washington Post.

Visitor (fine museum) — You are not a freak, are you?

Lady — Yes.

Visitor — Beg pardon, but what is there remarkable about you?

Visitor — I have been married ten years and I never once told my husband that I could have plenty of richer and handsomer men if I'd wanted 'em."

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

Modern minister's wife — You look worried, dear. Can't you find subjects that will interest the congregation? Modern minister (gloomily) — It is easy enough to find subjects that will interest the congregation; the trouble is to find subjects that will interest the news papers.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

Mrs. H. C. Baker of Upper Paint Lick, died of heart disease last Saturday. Her death was very unexpected and she had reached her 42d year.

Hon. W. O. Brumley and Gen. W. J. Lumbard, Mr. and Mrs. Sandifer's lawyers in the trial now in court and Mr. Shelly and Robinson represent the railroad.

We failed recently in our last issue to name our citizens who have invested in Mid-Holmes. This month have recently been added to the list of our citizens: Mr. and Mrs. George N. and Mrs. John S. Tracy, of Tracy's Store, and Mr. and Mrs. John C. and Mrs. John C. Tracy, of Tracy's Store.

John C.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., MARCH 8, 1889.

W. P. WALTON.

With the exception of Blaine who needs no introduction, and Windom, who presided over the treasury during Garfield's administration, the gentlemen composing Harrison's cabinet are rather obscure and unknown quantities. John W. Noble, Secretary of the Interior, is from Missouri and was born in 1831. He was promoted to brigadier general at the close of the war and was appointed district attorney by President Johnson, which he held till 1870, since which time he has practiced his profession in St. Louis. John Wanamaker, postmaster general, is 51 years old and is the rich clothing merchant of Philadelphia, who bought and paid for his office, which cost him $50,000. The attorney general, W. H. H. Miller, is the law partner of the president at Indianapolis and has been since 1873. He has no other claim to public recognition but that fact, though it is said he is fairly capable of filling the office. Redfield Proctor, secretary of war, voted the Vermont delegation every time solid for Harrison at Chicago and that accounts for his appointment. He is the least known of the big auts. Gen. B. F. Tracy, of New York, is 59 and got his title from having been a brigadier in the late war. He was appointed district attorney for the eastern district of New York and since his retirement has made some reputation as a corporation lawyer. He is secretary of the navy. The distributor of garden seeds is Jere Rusk, of Wisconsin, and he was born in 1830. He has been governor of his State three times and has twice represented his district in Congress. He is said to be a clever old fellow, with about as much knowledge of farming as Horace Greeley possessed. The appointments were made Tuesday and confirmed within 10 minutes after being presented to the Senate. This is about all that can be told of the men who will cross their legs under the cabinet table. Blaine will rule the roost and his word will be the law, whatever may be the wishes and expressions of President Harrison.

The Lexington Leader, which is by the way the neatest in appearance and the best in get up of any republican paper in the State, and ranks with the best dailies outside of Louisville, dials out this cold comfort to the hungry hordes: "Our republican friends who expect a complete change in the offices on the day after the inauguration will meet with disappointment. It will take some time to get the running gear of the government in good order and the best thing to do is to be patient. There are a great many places to be filled, even before the claims of aspiring postmasters can be considered." The advice of our contemporary is good, but how can a starving man be patient? There are fellows who have toiled not, neither have they sown during the last four years, in hopes of getting back their ploughs, and to tell such to be patient is almost adding insult to injury. They think they must be provided for, and that pol-garrison thinks that Cleve don'ts' inviting individuality did more to defeat him than anything else and that his retirement is final. But then Mr. W. doesn't know everything. He, however, pays the ex-president the highest compliment as an executive by saying "a more conscientious and courageous man in discharge of his official duty never entered the White House. If his experience had been equal to his abilities and his methods and his intentions, his leadership would have been unequalled and his tenure abridged only by the Constitutional limitation. He goes out having done a better part by the country than by the party, which is saying much for his patriotism."

The State of Ohio is not represented in the cabinet directly, but the president and four of his advisers were born there, while Blaine got a part of his education at Lancaster, in the same State. Speaking of Ohio reminds us that the fuse made over Buck-fuzz Foraker at the inauguration was out of all proportion to his size. He is a pigmy intellectually but what he lacks in brains is more than made up in brawn and that accounts for the way in which he always manages to get there.

The Frankfort Capital says that when it was stated in the dispatches that the republican Senators contemplated expelling Senator Blackburn for pulling Chandler's ear, they, however, with the grim look of the soldier, said: "If they do it, I shall appoint him to the vacancy by telegraph."

It will be observed that Mr. Harrison is painfully silent on the second term business. He evidently does not want his words thrown at him when he asks an endorsement three years hence. In this he shows sense. They will all take a second term so what's the use of talking.

The Times' Washington correspondent says if the commissionership of Internal Revenue goes to Kentucky, Col A. M. Swope will get it. We hope this is true, for no other republican in the State is more deserving or better qualified.

Harrison was so overcome by the effects of shaking hands with the crowd that pressed to do so, that he had to retire and recuperate his system with a long drawn out drink of old rye. This is terrible in this growing prohibition country, but the worst is yet to be told. The scenes of drunkenness and debauchery in Washington this week exceed anything of the kind ever witnessed there. Nearly everybody was howdy-yo-yo, while a whole regiment from Pennsylvania got ravenously drunk and acted most disorderly. Harrison's coachman was also drunk and came near creating a row by recklessly driving into a crowd. It begins to look like the prohibitionists will have little to expect from the party of free whisky and taxed necessities.

Not even the meanest republican paper or politician has ever dared even to hint at fraud or corruption in connection with the administration of President Cleveland, which will go down to history as the cleanest and most patriotic since politics have cut such a figure in our affairs. He gave the country a wise, vigilant and economical administration, with absolutely no taint of extravagance or corruption, and he retires to private life with the respect and plaudits of all honest men, who admire courage and honesty of purpose in a public official. If Harrison does even half so well as he the country will have cause for congratulation.

The address of President Harrison is received with commendation by nearly all the papers, both democratic and republican. It is not a remarkably brilliant production, but it is for the most part sound, sensible and practical and if the author can live up to it, without regard to Blaine or anybody else, the country will have nothing to fear but considerable trouble from his administration. It is not very encouraging to the hungry hordes who want a new deal right now. He tells them not to be importunate, as it will take a long time for him and the heads of the departments to examine and decide upon appointments.

Ax item is going the rounds that Chas. E. Kincaid, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times, will buy an interest in the Danville Advocate. We do not know anything of the truth or falsity of the report, but we take it that if the judge does so, it will be simply to invest his large accumulations where they will bring him a handsome dividend and not for the purpose of changing his location. As a correspondent he is invaluable to every Kentucky reader of his popular paper, and for one, who reads his dispatches with avidity, we enter an earnest protest against his leaving the capital city.

By the pathetic appeal of Senator Daniel, his democratic colleague, the Senate expunged from the official record that Senator Biddleberger was forcibly ejected from the Senate, though he did not deserve such consideration. Daniel laid all the trouble on Biddleberger's hot setting sun and for the sake of his family begged that his actions be not recorded in the book of remembrance. It is pleasing to note that Virginia will hereafter be represented in the Senate by a pair of gentlemen, instead of by such cutts as Malone and Biddleberger.

Ex-President Cleveland and wife left Washington for New York Wednesday and already the name of Gravel Cleveland in porcelain letters adorns a window in the great law establishment of Bangs, Stetson, Tracy & McVeagh. He will buckle himself right down to work and will soon be as distinguished a lawyer as he is distinguished as a statesman. A worker indeed is our Grover.

No tears will be shed over the retirement of Secretary Endicott, who can now return to the New England home from which Mr. Cleveland drew him and pull it in after him. He was never known to turn a rascal out or to do anything further than to sit up and nurse his dignity. Entire toccettas for this democratic country was William Crownshield Endicott.

Harrison no doubt recognizes that this is a democratic country, notwithstanding his by the forms of law is made president, and that, no doubt, accounts for the conservatism of his address. The democrats polled 5,540,329 votes at the last election, which are about 100,000 more than Harrison received. The minority president is wise in going slow.

SPEAKER CARLISLE retires after six years of service as Speaker of the House with a reputation for absolute fairness never before attained by any of the numerous men who have held the difficult and trying position. He will be on the floor next session and as a leader of the democratic side he will be invaluable to the party.

The New York Sun is greatly pleased with the inaugural address, much more so than it would have been with any that Cleveland could have delivered. The rays of that luminary have long been shining brighter for the republican than for the democratic principles, although it professes affiliation with the latter party.

—There seems to be but one millionaire in Harrison's cabinet after all—the hand-me-down clothing man of Philadelphia.

The new president is credited with a very thoughtful and gentlemanly act Saturday before his inauguration. He took a drive with his son, Russell, through the city and in observing the decorations he saw a banner with a fulsome reference to himself and a very uncomplimentary one to Cleveland, which some overzealous ones had hung on the outer walls of his building. It was on the route by which he and Mr. Cleveland had gone to get together to the White House, so when he returned to his hotel he had his unqualified disapproval of the matter conveyed to the fellow, with the request that the banner be removed. His wishes were obeyed and the most likely thing hidden from view.

The busy man of the Richmond Climate thinks it the name of sidesplitting wit to refer to this paper as the Inside Journal. He has peculiar ideas of humor anyway as those who have lost the time to read his "thin column" can testify. It is a wonder, artist that he is that he does not furnish a diagram for his jokes. They are exceedingly funny, no doubt, but even a Philadelphia lawyer can not see through them in their original state.

It is painful to observe that Gen. T. Bradley is in the soup so far as a cabinet position is concerned, but we expect to see him crawl out of the tureen into a position more in conformity with his build. The general is a great man, but his ambition is greater than his ability.

It is stated that Judge Vincent Birrell, of London, will be appointed pension agent. He is a good soldier, is a splendid civilian and the president could hardly find a more capable and deserving man.

NEWS CONDENSED.

—Steerage passage from New York to Paris is now advertised at $18.

—Miss Mary L. Booth, editor of Harper's Bazaar, is dead in New York.

—Miss Susan, daughter of Felix Twiss, was turned to death in Mercer.

—Mail is now carried between New York and San Francisco in 14 hours.

—A canning factory to employ 200 hands is to be started at Elizabethtown —all the hungry office seekers, the Kentucky contingent is said to be the hungriest.

—A fellow calling himself "Jack, the Choker," is terrorizing Denver, Col., by choking women.

—Burglars and mad-dogs have the people of Mercer scared up from one end to the other.

—The Reading, Pa., Iron Works failed Tuesday. The liabilities are said to be about $1,000,000.

—One of Harrison's first acts was to appoint his brother John marshal of the District of Missouri.

—Twelve thousand inaugural ball tickets were sold, making the receipts from that source $60,000.

—The democratic candidate for mayor of Paducah was elected Monday by 126 majority over a republican.

—The Ohio College of Dental Surgery, at Cincinnati, turned out 65 tooth carvers in one batch Monday.

—Rud Hines and his family of 9 were drowned in the Tennessee river, which they were trying to ford in a wagon.

—A Pennsylvania man killed himself a few days ago because there was no snow so he could use his new sleigh.

—The Pine Mountain Iron and Coal Company will build 40 additional coke ovens near Pineville at a cost of $10,000.

—The British bark Port Gordon was wrecked off Cape Fattery and four seamen were drowned. The loss is $60,000.

—At 2:30 Wednesday Blaine took the oath of office and flumped down in the seat Bayard has a burrily filled for four years.

—Gold miners say that the gold discoveries near Eureka, Cal., are probably the richest ever found on the Pacific Coast.

—Indianapolis republicans are pointing Miller, who never took a hand in politics, was given a cabinet place and the leaders ignored.

—The Indiana legislature has passed an act making it a misdemeanor to sell tobacco, cigarettes or cigars to boys under 16 years of age.

—Frank J. Lantier died in Louisville from the effects of a fall caused by his company's playfully removing his chair, while he arose for some purpose.

—There were 15,000 people at the inaugural ball, but it was a failure in everything save numbers. The negro population was considerably represented.

—E. S. Tuley, the republican who assisted Mrs. Thompson in the Louisville postoffice so long, has been reappointed by her, now that his party is in power.

—The Rhode Island House surprises the world by an effort to repeal the prohibition amendment to the State constitution. It is high license that they want now.

—J. Ethelbert Powell, claiming to be a prohibition speaker, hired a hall in Lexington to deliver a lecture, but got blind drunk instead and was lodged in jail for robbery.

—It poured down rain all day in Washington and it is estimated that 10,000 citizens were spoiled by the rain which fell on the patriots who marched in the inaugural procession.

—A shrewd citizen of Macon, Ga., swapped horses ten times in one day and made $125 and galloped home that night possessor of the same horse to impart the news to his family.

—By the will of the late millionaire, James C. Flood, of California, one-half of his estate, valued at $1,200,000, goes to his wife, and the other half to his son and daughter, in equal shares.

—It is said that the Bowling Green shops of the L. & N. are to be removed and the work divided between Memphis and Nashville, owing to high taxes caused by voting subsidies to other railroads.

—Three Mormon elders passed thru' Cincinnati with 150 ignorant and destitute Aborigines and Georgians, whom they had converted to Mormonism by promises of homes and plenty of work in Utah.

—Mrs. Taylor fell down an elevator shaft at a hotel in Memphis, Tenn., the other day, a distance of 30 feet and landed on her bustle and it saved her life. The bustle is here to stay. —Breckenridge News.

—The annual convention of the Y. M. C. A., which met at Georgetown, was attended by 112 delegates, who enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable meeting. James B. Riley, of Danville, was elected permanent secretary.

—A statement of the general appropriation bill shows that the total estimates submitted amounted to $297,285,000, the sum appropriated to $281,878,000, and the sum carried in the laws for the current year to $306,385,541.

—The deputy postmaster at Delia Springs, Ark., was arrested for raping an 8-year-old girl, but was taken from the officers and hung, the mob amusing itself while he was dangling in the air by riddling his body with bullets.

—Mrs. Harrison sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Cleveland, accompanied by a note of thanks for the courtesy and kindness displayed by the returning mistress of the White House to her since her arrival in Washington.

—A driving rainstorm prevailed all day at Washington Monday and Harrison had to deliver his address from under an umbrella. The seats reserved for the dignitaries were nearly all vacant and the sight soon had it all his own way.

—The county jail at Hodgenville, LaRue county, was partially destroyed by fire Wednesday night, and two prisoners confined therein were probably fatally burned. The fire was started by an insane negro prisoner named Johnson. Hart Co. News.

—Six years ago a dentist, who gave his name as C. G. Way, located in Louisville and commenced the practice, which has been most successful. He now announces that his real name is S. L. Butler and that he came from Richmond, Va., to avoid the innovation of a heavy judgment, which he is now prepared to pay in full.

—The first session of the 50th Congress began in Dec., 1887 and lasted till Oct. 20th, 1888; the second began in December and lasted until noon March 4th. During the two sessions, which were the longest ever held, 12,639 bills and 268 joint resolutions were introduced in the House and 3,998 bills and 144 joint resolutions in the Senate. Of all these bills and resolutions but 1,191 became laws.

—MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Lam Pike calls his boy Andrew Jeplin.

—New coal banks are being opened at Wirters.

—Jasper Francisco sold his farm to J. B. Price for $600 and will go to Missouri.

—Harrison Russell lost his house with its contents by fire last week near Hazelton.

—The aid society will give an oyster supper at the Christian church Tuesday night next.

—The house in which the Andrew postoffice was kept was burned last Wednesday, with $10 worth of stamps.

—Business is looking up all over the country, especially so in the eastern portion, where it is fashionable to fight instead of end of work.

—Old miners say that the gold discoveries near Eureka, Cal., are probably the richest ever found on the Pacific Coast.

—Indianapolis republicans are pointing Miller, who never took a hand in politics, was given a cabinet place and the leaders ignored.

—The small boys and others are considerably wrought up over the mysterious movements of some one with a dark lantern, who appears on our streets at various hours of the night.

—Mrs. Tip Longford while dusting off the mantel had her clothing ignited. In her flight she ran out the door and someone told her to jump into a branch near by, which she did, and was not seriously hurt.

—W. W. Watson and sister starved to death in Texas, Tuesday. Miss Melville Tiffet, of Williamson, is visiting in the county. W. H. Jones, storekeeper and ganger, has been assigned to a Laurel distillery. Dr. W. A. Brown is here from Parksville to see W. L. Henderson. Harry Weber is here on the sick list, from his Milligan school. J. A. Williams was in Louisville this week. Mrs. Ellen Gilmore, of Danville, after a two months' visit to her sister, Mrs. Pauline Smith, returned home Thursday.

—The clever manager of the Carr's Pryor Co., Mr. L. D. Blondell, says, "You can assure your people that my company gives as clean and as enjoyable an entertainment as any that has ever appeared here and all that I ask is a trial audience."

—I know they are bound to come after that." To-night, to-morrow night and Saturday's matinee at Walton's Opera House.

S E E D S !

N. Y. Early Rose, N. Y.
Peerless.

N. Y. Beauty of Hebron,
N. Y. Burbank
SEED POTATOES !

GARDEN SEEDS

...IN...

PAPER AND BULK.

Sea Shells for Graves, Walks, &c.

BARGAINS IN PRESERVES, SWEET PICKLES, DRIED FRUITS, CANNED GOODS, &c.

Fresh Leghorn Eggs for Setting.

T. R. WALTON,

J. P. BURTON, Clerk.

Main and Somerset Streets.

M. C. RUPLEY,
MERCHANT TAILOR

Is Receiving His

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

Goods Warranted and a Perfect fit Guaranteed. Give him a Trial

B. K. WEAREN,
Dealer in

Furniture and Undertakers' Goods!

STANFORD, KY.

</

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., MARCH 8, 1859

E. C. WALTON, DGS. MGR.

Published Every Tuesday and Friday

$2 PER VOLUME ADVANCE

••• When not so paid $2.50 will be charged •••

K. C. LOCAL TIME CARD.

Train leaves Rowland at 7:30 A. M., returning 6 P. M.

L. & N. LOCAL TIME CARD.

Madisonville North 10:00 A. M.
" " South 10:00 A. M.
Express Train " South 10:00 A. M.
Local Freight North 10:00 A. M.
" " South 6:30 P. M.
The latter train also carries passengers.
The above is calculated on standard time. Total time is about 20 minutes faster.

MEANS BUSINESS.

Watches and jewelry repaired and warranted. A. R. Penny.

Lawmen's Garden seed, new crop, just received at McRoberts & Stagg's.

The last place to buy drugs, patent medicines and toilet articles is at A. R. Penny's.

Buy your school books, ink, tablets, paper, pencils and school supplies of all kinds from A. R. Penny.

You account is ready and I need the money. I mean you. Don't think this intended for some one else. A. R. Penny.

PERSONAL POINTS.

George H. Dunn is visiting relatives in Danville.

George W. H. Petts, of Somerset, was here Tuesday.

Miss Sadie Lutkin, of Lebanon, is visiting her uncle, Mr. James T. Clegg.

Mrs. James Maher, of Mt. Vernon, was down for a short while yesterday.

Miss Jean Buchanan, of Mt. Orme, has been visiting Mrs. A. A. McKinney.

Mrs. S. C. Tuckerman attended the funeral services of Bishop McFeyne at Nashville.

Mrs. Sallie and Nettie Ray, of Hardin, have been visiting Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Waller.

Miss Kate Rains, of Knoxville, passed through yesterday to visit friends at Hintonville.

Rev. Ben Helm has returned from Chicago and reports his wife very much better.

Miss Lizzie Clegg went to Louisville yesterday to enter the College of Music and Art.

—Misses Maude Peers and Maggie Holmes, of Clark's Orchard, are visiting Mrs. L. M. Lasley.

Misses Jessie McKinney, of the Wood End, and Nannie Bond, of Boyle, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. John McRoberts, Sr., is up again, after a very severe spell and we hope he is good for many years yet.

Jessie Awas, of Georgetown College, is at the bedside of his mother, John Awas, who is said to be improving.

Mrs. Horner, wife of the Lebanon preacher, who has been visiting at Mr. Ed. Carter's, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. William Wilcox and daughters, Misses Maud and Maggie, have returned from an extended visit to friends in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. J. L. Evans, who is an income-published artist, has at the solicitation of a number of young amateurs, taken charge of an art class here.

Miss Threewicks, of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Jennie Luckey and Mrs. Thomas Baldwin, of Lebanon, were the guests of Mrs. J. J. McRoberts.

Mr. Frank Green, who was stricken with paralysis of his right side about Christmas and lay flat of his back for two months at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cosby, at Junction City, is able to sit up and stands a fair show of full recovery.

Mr. Higgins' Kelly, widow from Clay Center, Kas., has come since she sympathizes with us, as he knows her, is himself. He still suffers very much from the neglect he received last year while on a visit to Junction City, with but little prospect of ultimate recovery.

Mr. J. R. Wainscott, who is suffering from muscular atrophy, was worse yesterday. The old gentleman is just 81 years of age and we very much fear he will be unable to withstand the attack. His strong constitution may pull him through, a hope that legion of friends include.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Pure buckwheat flour at S. S. Myers.

Nice line French satinettes ever in the city. Severance & Son.

SEVENTY-FIVE dozen ladies' and gents' handkerchiefs. Severance & Son.

Nice line of gents' flannel overshirts for spring wear at Dwyer & Craig's.

Sneat at W. H. Higgins' and see the best backband and hook over under.

New line white goods, including table linens, napkins, towels, &c. Severance & Son.

We have left from the auction 200 yards of all wool, 42 inch black Henrietta cloth at 57½ cents. S. L. Powers & Co.

You should see the bended wraps and fibus at Severance & Son's.

Turnip greens, jowl and porched eggs are the order of the day now. Yum yum.

Lawmen's, Ferry & Co's and Crossman's Garden Seeds at A. A. Warren's "Model Grocery."

WALL PAPER, wall paper at R. K. Warren's in new styles from the cheapest to the highest.

If you want a black Henrietta dress we are closing out $1 pieces at 57½ cents. S. L. Powers & Co.

Dr. J. F. Peavy is slowly but surely going up in the town. His latest acquisition is the residence of Mrs. Smith. It cost him $2,000.

The pastor of the colored Christian church, Elder Harrison Givens, is very low with asthma and has to remain in a sitting position to keep from losing his breath.

We have received our new line of carpets, ranging from 15, 20, 25, 35, 40, 50, 60 and 75 cents. Also a full line of Staynburgs 75 cents to a very large size at $3. Dwyer & Craig.

The negro women here are in a state of alarm over the report that "Jack the Ripper" has taken up his abode in Stanford, and the consequence is that they do not appear after dark unless under sufficient protection.

By an oversight the sale of the $3,000 in Lincoln county bonds was omitted last issue. They were sold in $500 lots, Mr. Thomas McRoberts, of Danville, buying four and S. H. Bingham the other two lots. The last of the series under the act authorizing their sale brought a considerable premium, but we suppose they are getting most too common now to be an object to investors.

An oversight from the way bank stock sold at A. D. Newland's sale one would conclude that our people are hungry for it. Ten shares of Lincoln National brought $112.50 to $114.25 shares. First National sold at $100.75 to $110 and 10 shares of Sexton National, of St. Joseph, Mo., were disposed of privately at $150.

The office of county attorney, which is not to be filled till August, 1859, will not go legging, judging from the number of candidates announced or spoken of. W. E. Vernon has been out some time. Charles R. Bell thinks of making the race. J. R. Paxton has an eye on it and Babbitt announced himself a candidate Monday. The race promises to be a lively one.

The wife of the late Solon Craig was admitted to probate Tuesday. It is written in his own hand and beneath all of his property, both real and personal, to his niece, Miss Maggie Harris, of Paducah, with the exception of $200 to Mrs. M. E. Helm. He gives as a reason for making her his heir that "she likes and sympathizes with her." She is to choose the administrator with the advice of her uncle, R. C. Craig. The estate is valued at several thousands of dollars and everybody is pleased with Miss Maggie's good fortune.

The Cara P. P. Co. caught on in grand style in Lancaster and packed houses were the order during their stay. Managers Hughes and McRoberts testify to the merits of the show and say it is worthy of our tallest patronage. It opened here last night in "old Side Pards," to night "Maude Muller" will be given. Saturday at two a popular play at audience prices and Saturday night "Phlick." The prices for the night performances will be 25, 35 and 50, the latter for reserved seats, which can be had during the day at McRoberts & Stagg's.

The Court of Levy increased the poll tax from $1 to $1.50 and the property tax 6 cents, making it 23 cents, all on account of Lawyer Davison's road law. S. H. Bingham, executor of Henry Bingham, who built the jail, was given till July to investigate the lock patent. The county has had to pay $750 damages for infringement on the locks placed in the jail and this amount will be required from the Bingham estate, if the executor can not show that there was no infringement. An order to subdivide $1,250 a mile for 3½ miles of the Highland & Waynesburg was made and the contractors will be let at once. A bond of $500 was destroyed, leaving only $100 of the odd issue now unpaid, which with those recently sold makes the total of include loss of the county $10,000. A financial statement of the county's affairs was prepared. It appears in this issue and attention is called to it.

A letter from Medicine Lodge, Kas., brings the news that Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Davis are celebrating the advent of a boy, their second child. Jack was raised here and so was his wife, who was the beautiful Miss Annie Cooper. Speaking of Jack, reminds us that he is perhaps the only living man who can tell how it feels to be hung. When he was a boy he witnessed the hanging of a negro at Danville and on his return he was showing the boys here how it was done. The rope was hung on a convenient limb and he stood on a box and adjusted the other end around his neck. Just then Charley Carson kicked the box from under him and Jack was suspended between heaven and earth. He fainted at the mouth and turned livid, which scared the boys so they took to their heels and but for a gentleman who was attracted to the scene and cut Jack down, he would not now be the head of a large and growing family.

The hungry hounds should bear in mind the consideration with which all the republican office-holders were treated in this district and not be too hasty to get the places now held by democrats. We do not recall that Gov. McCrory had a single officer removed, but on the contrary let everyone serve his time out. He even permitted Mrs. Woods, the republican postmaster at Hustonville to continue in office till this day, because he knew her condition and the necessity of the office to her. He did this too at the sacrifice of some votes in the West End. As for ourselves we insisted that Postmaster Alford be permitted to serve his time out, as our plan will show, and we now demand a similar treatment of his successor and we believe he will be accorded it.

A letter from Medicine Lodge, Kas., brings the news that Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Davis are celebrating the advent of a boy, their second child. Jack was raised here and so was his wife, who was the beautiful Miss Annie Cooper. Speaking of Jack, reminds us that he is perhaps the only living man who can tell how it feels to be hung. When he was a boy he witnessed the hanging of a negro at Danville and on his return he was showing the boys here how it was done. The rope was hung on a convenient limb and he stood on a box and adjusted the other end around his neck. Just then Charley Carson kicked the box from under him and Jack was suspended between heaven and earth. He fainted at the mouth and turned livid, which scared the boys so they took to their heels and but for a gentleman who was attracted to the scene and cut Jack down, he would not now be the head of a large and growing family.

All kinds of seed potatoes at S. S. Myers.

New wall paper now in with borders 20 inches wide to match. Call and see them. Dwyer & Craig.

New dress goods in all the newest colors in plain stripes and plaid; trimmings to match. Severance & Son.

See the width and quality of the black Henrietta cloth we are now closing out at 57½ cents. Buy now and save money.

S. L. Powers & Co.

Cara P. P. Co. likes a fairy and sings like a top. She will give several songs and dances to-night during the performance of the pleasing comedy of "Maude Muller."

The Lincoln National less than two months old shows in its report individual profits to the amount of $6,155.29. The loans and discounts of the three banks in this county foot up $659,112.80 and the individual deposits $410,221.06.

Mrs. Kate Dugman has about completed another dwelling Rowland. The advantages of the Building and Loan Association is again shown and would prove of greater benefit if there was more money to loan. Secretary A. A. Warren tells us that he has demands for double the amount he can dispose of.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over or maimed up, which would result in both breaking the business up and riddling the community of a worthless individual or two.

Five negro boys will be tried by Judge Carson this morning for jumping on the trains while in motion at and near the depot. The latter plan would be to let them go ahead and get run over

